

Visit to Anglesey Abbey, the gardens and the Lode Mill on Thursday, April 11th COST £20.00 per person

Our visit will take in the Jacobean style house, with its many and varied treasures and the extensive, renowned gardens of over one hundred acres. Also included will be a tour of the working Lode Mill.

National Trust members can enter at no cost, but non-members will have to pay a reduced group charge of £13.40 entry (instead of the normal £15.00). To assist entrance non-members of the National Trust are asked to supply a second cheque, made out to The National Trust, for their entry fee/s. This will speed everyone's entry on arrival.

Facilities at Anglesey Abbey include a self-service restaurant offering light refreshments with hot or cold drinks. There is a well stocked gift shop, a plant centre and a second hand book shop.

We are experimenting by running a smaller coach, with only 29 seats, to keep our cost as low as possible.

The coach will leave Aldeburgh Church car park at 08.30 a.m., calling at Wickham Market at 9.00 a.m..

We shall leave Anglesey Abbey at 4.00 p.m. for the return home.
